

Responsibilities and Organization Chart Director of the Hoover Institution

The Director of the Hoover Institution is responsible for recommending appointments to the President of the University and supervising the staff of the Institution, for directing and supervising the Institution's research and publication programs, for directing the Institution's library and archival programs, and for preparing and administering the Institution's annual budget. The Director is also responsible for planning, coordinating, and managing the Institution's fund-raising program.

